Client: Affinity Media Ltd (<http://www.affinitymediagroup.com/>)

WorldTV is an entirely new concept in the world of web video. More than 10 years in the planning, it realizes a long term vision to empower anyone, anywhere to become their own media mogul.

WorldTV represents the next generation in online video. With millions of video clips now online, the Library is finally in place to empower anyone to mix their tastes into a powerful web TV concept. In the near future those channels will appear on TV.

Not everyone is a video creator, but with WorldTV you can be a curator. With WorldTV, you can curate your own full-screen web TV channel in seconds. You can then embed your channel in other websites, share updates to your channel via Twitter and Facebook, and brand and promote your channel to a global audience of millions.

For professional video publishers we offer a range of innovative tools – a swiss army knife for online video. Organize your clips no matter where they are hosted; rapidly build playlists out of YouTube clips, Vimeo clips, FLV/MP4/H.264 files or any combination; view independent statistics on your viewers; create media RSS feeds; integrate live video streams from Qik and Ustream; host an 'out of the box' TV channel on your own domain name; and much more.

Tangraph (<http://www.tangraph.com/>)
Client: Tangraph Technologies, Inc. (<http://www.tangraph.com/>)

Tangraph is a graphing applet designed specifically with the sports statistics in mind. It offers a flexible, almost infinitely customizable interface and a powerful API.

You can dissect a season's worth of data, or a career, a tournament or even a single game - by drilling down and analyzing every available data point.

You can zoom in (mouse-click, hold and pan) and zoom out (double mouse-click). You can pan (using panning buttons when zoomed in) or play your data as a video clip.

Your customers will be able to build their own graphs, drawing from the data you already have. They might even want to save and share their findings on your site!

Welcome to Tangraph, the World of Dynamic Sports Data

We are offering you a new way of looking at sports statistics.
The dry and after-the-fact stats we all got used to are no more!

Plug them into Tangraph, our graphing applet designed specifically for sports statistics, and they become live and vivid. Replay last night's game play-by-play, with the statistics and videoclips at your fingertips. Stack up lifetime achievements of great sportsmen, or overlay several of your favorite team's seasons. Give your customers the ability to massage the stats and see them any way they want.

Magnificent Martin
Devils blank Canadiens 2-0 on Brodeur's 10th shutout of season

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Devils made sure Martin Brodeur didn't have to work hard for his 10th shutout of the season.

Relatively untested for the opening two periods, Brodeur made 21 saves to match his single-season career high for shutouts in a 2-0 victory over the Montreal Canadiens on Friday night.

"I was really in the zone," Brodeur said after moving within five shutouts of the NHL modern-era record set by Chicago's Tony Esposito in 1969-70.

"I knew these guys were really hot and playing well defensively. I knew I wouldn't get many shots and these are the kind of games where you have to really focus."

The shutout was the 74th of Brodeur's career and the Devils' third in seven games. Brodeur had one other and Scott Clemmensen had one.

Martin Brodeur is averaging 21 saves per game in his 10 shutouts this season.
